Killers of Worlds

A thousand light years away, across a yawning gulf of space and time, the six planets of the Soulstar system perform a peaceful celestial dance around their youthful suns, unaware of the horror soon to come. A horror in the dreaded shape of the Myrkoids, an alien species older than the stars themselves, with a unified mind far colder than the spaces between those stars. The Myrkoids - killers of worlds - descend on unsuspecting star systems, sucking them dry and draining every planet of its internal energies. They leave nothing in their savage wake but empty husks drifting lifelessly in space.

Following the destruction of his home system, Bryk Hammelt, the last of a noble race of warriors known as the Cryo-commandos, set out in his great starship, the Treaghon, to hunt down the merciless Myrkoids. He has hunted them for centuries, tracked them across the trackless wastes of the Great Divide, searched for the destructive evidence of their presence in the starfields of Maldrum Tau, and chased them at the speed of light through the hypergate at Viridium Plush...

For eons he has followed, and they have always eluded him. Until now.

Now he'll face this ancient enemy in a battle for the soul of a star...

The Aggressor

You are Bryk Hammelt, Cryo-commando, an expert pilot, navigator and special weapons operative of the Aggressor, a multi-option attack vehicle capable of morphing into three distinct vehicle-types:

- ① Sub-light Strike Craft: A highly maneuverable fighter, capable of achieving speeds in excess of Mach 6. This vehicle-type is utilized mainly in fast, low attack runs on ground-based enemies and for combat in outer space.
- ② Turbo Copter: A VTOL gunship, utilized mainly for attacks within 360 degree environments. Also has a sub-aqua capability.
- ③ Combat Walker: A well-armored, bipedal attack vehicle, with hover facility, utilized for ground-based assaults within 360 degree environments.

Gria, the Treaghon's sentient computer, is able to anticipate which vehicle-type is suitable for which terrain/environment and will adjust the Aggressor's configuration accordingly.

Screen Signals

- ① Shield Indicator: Your Aggressor has an energy shield that reduces incrementally when you take a hit. With your shield down you are completely vulnerable to enemy fire and destruction is certain. The shield can be powered up by collecting the blue pick-ups (see Pick-Ups, pg.10).
- ② Status Displays: These indicate how much physical damage your Aggressor has taken.
- ③ Current Weapon Display: This shows your currently selected weapon.
- ④ 3D Scanner: Your Aggressor vehicle is located in the cross-hairs at the center of the Scanner. Enemy vehicles are shown as colored dots. Your main targets are shown as flashing colored dots. The arrows at the top show which way you should go.
- ⑤ Power Display: This indicates how much power you have for your Aggressor's propulsion unit. The propulsion unit can be powered up by collecting the green pick-ups (see Pick-Ups, pg.10).

Game Over

Bryk Hammelt is fitted with a teleportation eject device which allows him to teleport safely to the Treaghton at the moment his Aggressor is destroyed. Teleportation is highly dangerous since it involves disassembling and reassembling Bryk's molecular structure. Each time he teleports, his structure subtly changes. As this is the case, the teleportation device will only work twice, consequently giving Bryk three so-called 'lives'. The first two times the Aggressor is destroyed, Bryk will teleport back to the Treaghton, whereupon he and his multi-option attack vehicle will be returned to the beginning of the stage where they were destroyed. The third time Bryk and his Aggressor are destroyed, you will have one chance to regenerate Bryk and continue with his one-man mission against the forces of the Myrkoids. Select the Continue Button on the menu or restart from the beginning. When you've used up all 3 of Bryk's lives and regenerated him once to continue, the game ends.

Aggressor Weapons

Your Aggressor multi-option attack vehicle is fitted with the capability for eight Standard Weapons and two Special Weapons. The Aggressor begins the game with only two standard weapons enabled: 1 Plasma Shot and 2 Missiles. You may augment your Aggressor with any of the standard and special weapons below by collecting the red pick-ups (see Pick-Ups, pg. xx) during combat:

Standard Weapons

- ① Plasma Shot: Concentrated pulses of plasma-based high-energy.
- ② Missiles: Laser-guided projectiles with high-explosive warheads.
- ③ Ring Cannon: Ramped-up rings of high-energy.
- ④ Hunter: Pulsating sphere of high-energy that homes in on targets.
- ⑤ Laser: Highly destructive high-energy beam weapon.
- ⑥ Rockets: Unguided projectiles with high-explosive warheads.
- ⑦ Bombs: Duralinium-encased high-explosive bombs.
- ⑧ Star Masher: With this weapon selected, hold down Button A to charge it and let go of the button to fire.

Special Weapons

- ⑨ Torpedo: Long-range, multi-warhead projectile.
- ⑩ R.A.M: Robotic Assistance Module.

Pick-ups

The Pick-ups take the form of colored spheres:

Red: Weapons Pick-up

Green: Power Pick-up

Blue: Shields Pick-up

Fire at the pick-up sphere to transform it into a ring of smaller spheres, then fly through the ring to gain the Pick-up.

The Weapons Pick-ups have a letter affixed to them, pertaining to the type of weapon they contain:

P: Plasma Shot

M: Missiles

C: Ring Cannon

H: Hunter

L: Laser

R: Rockets

B: Bombs

X: Star Masher

Warping Into Difficulty

SOULSTAR has three difficulty levels - Easy, Medium and Hard. Unlike most other games, these levels cannot be set at the start, but they will be activated during the game itself. The activation occurs when you enter one of the three Warps situated inside the Myrkoid Warship. The level of difficulty depends on which Warp you choose to enter, as is the order in which you will see the various planets of the Soulstar system. You must enter all three Warps and therefore play through all three difficulty levels to visit all six planets in the system.

Mission Objectives

SOULSTAR takes place on and around the six worlds of the Soulstar planetary system - the next target in the sights of the merciless Myrkoids. The sole purpose of this ancient alien race is to plunder the universe of its mineral deposits and energy resources, using both to manufacture and power its mighty invasion fleets. Locked in cryogenic suspension in your gigantic mother-ship, the Treaghton, you have tracked the Myrkoids across half the known universe - and now the day for battle has arrived.

Before each mission begins, you will receive a briefing from Gria, the Treaghton's sentient computer. Listen carefully to receive details about your mission objectives:

Planet Leira

The Myrkoid's have flown a Warship into the Soulstar system. Your primary objective is to gain access to the Warship. The mission has three phases:

1. Penetrate the Myrkoid's first line of defense.
2. Destroy the Interceptor Bases on the planet Leira.
3. Penetrate the Myrkoid's second line of defense and enter the Warship.

Myrkoid Warship

There are three warp gates located inside the ship. Your primary objective is to activate one of the gates and warp to another sector in the Soulstar system. The mission has three phases:

1. Destroy the primary computer located at the center of the interior.
2. Activate any one of the three warp gates by disabling the orbs surrounding the opposing power pylons.
3. Engage the activated warp gate by landing on the adjacent, circular launch platform.

Planet Gigan

The Myrkoids have located an energy extractor at Gigan's core. Destroying the extractor will cut off their central power supply. Your mission has two phases:

1. Penetrate the Myrkoid-held city and destroy its ground defenses.
2. Neutralize the Myrkoid energy extractor to cut off their central power supply.

Planet Bulkan

The Myrkoids are using a giant excavator beneath Bulkan's surface to mine for vital minerals used in the construction of their battle fleet. Your primary objective is to destroy the excavator. The mission has three phases:

1. Successfully negotiate the asteroid field.
2. Access the main tunnel and destroy the Myrkoid factories.
3. Neutralize the Myrkoid excavator.

Planet Twingha

The Myrkoids have established a tractor-beam device beneath the surface of the Twinghan Ocean. With this device they plan to grab and pull the Treaghaon until it crashes on the surface of the planet. Your primary objective is to neutralize the tractor beam. The mission has two phases:

1. Fly across the Twinghan Ocean and penetrate the Myrkoid defenses.
2. Submerge your craft and neutralize the tractor-beam generators on the ocean floor.

Planet Guha

The Myrkoids have located a Synchrosun command and control system on Guha. Destroying the system will disrupt the flow of communication between the vessels of the Myrkoid advance fleet. Your mission has two phases:

1. Destroy the Myrkoid surface installations.
2. Destroy the Synchrosun energizing system, thereby neutralizing the Myrkoid command and control network.

Planet Metafus

The Myrkoids have built a weapon of mass destruction on the planet Metafus and are preparing to transport it to other sectors in the Soulstar system. Your primary objective is to destroy this weapon. The mission has two phases:

1. Destroy the Myrkoid surface installations.
2. Neutralize the weapon of mass destruction.

Myrkoid System

It is vital that you successfully complete your mission in the Myrkoid system. This is your last chance to destroy the Myrkoids forever. The mission has three phases:

1. Engage the Myrkoid invasion fleet and destroy as many ships as possible.
2. Destroy the generators on the surface of the planet Krast to access the entrance to the planet's core.
3. Insufficient data on mission phase. Proceed with caution.
